The Prince of Lichtenſtein left this Place on Monday Evening laſt on his Return to Vienna. The Court is expected in Town in a few Days from Potzdam; and they ſay the General Review will be made here, as uſual, towards the latter End of the next Week.

The next Morning, being Monday the 30th, his Majeſty ſet forward about Eight, and came to Bentheim that Evening where his Majeſty was likewiſe ſaluted by a triple Diſcharge of the Cannon from the Caſtle, and ſupped and reſted there that Night: To which Place from Maeſlandſluys, his Majeſty was attended by Parties of Dutch Troops. The next Morning, being Tueſday, the 31ſt, his Majeſty ſet out from thence for Dippenau, attended by Parties of Dragoons of his own Troops, and got thither about Seven in the Evening, and was complimented by a great Number of Perſons of Diſtinction on his ſafe Arrival in his German Dominions. His Majeſty ſupped and lay there that Night, and the next Morning, the 1ſt Inſtant, his Majeſty ſet forward about Nine for Herrenhauſen, attended by freſh Parties of Dragoons, where he arrived about Five a-Clock in the Afternoon, in perfect Health, and was received and complimented by the Regency, and a great Number of the Nobility, and other Perſons of Diſtinction. Laſt Night between Nine and Ten, the Right Honourable the Lord Harrington arrived here, and this Day his Lordſhip waited on his Majeſty at Herrenhauſen.
